

PROJECT :1

Description:

I am Student studying in 10th grade. I have exams coming up next week. I have 5 subjects in my schedule, and I am left with 7 days of time. So, for a student it is a challenging time to score well in the exams. The things come-up such as how to prepare all the subject in five days and manage rest 2 days for the revisions of the subjects.

Plan:

For scoring well in the exam I need to plan my all seven days. The priority will be the subjects which are difficult for me and where I need much time to focus on those difficult topics of that subject. I am weak at maths. So, I will plan accordingly.

1st day Maths.

2nd day Science.

3rd day Social Studies.

4th day English.

5th day Hindi.

6th day Revision.

7th day Revision.

So, according to plan I will study these subject and make a solid knowledge in each topic, now I need to figure out in which topics I am lacking and not confident with it, I will mention in a paper. If I have any doubts in any topics, I will also mention that in a paper.

Prepare:

I will start preparing the subject according to the schedule. In the preparation time I will try to figure out the easy topics, difficult topics and the topics which are unknown to me.

I will work with difficult topics and make a good grip in that topics and then next I will prepare for the topic which is easy for me. And if the time permits, I will investigate the topics which are unknown to me.

The last 2 days for revision, I will give to the topics which are difficult to me. I will work on it. If I get any doubts and face difficulty and need assistance, I will mention in the paper and ask my doubts to the respected persons.

Analyze:

I will start figuring out the solutions for the topics which I analysed that was difficult for me to learn. I will try to fix out the issues where I was facing challenges. If I cannot figure out, I will take help on those topics and I will write in down in a separate paper.

Share:

The topics which I wrote in a sheet for discussion and for guidance, I will make sure to discuss with my classmates and or the teachers. The Doubts will be clarified after the discussion, and I am ready for my examination.

Act:

Finally, the day has arrived, Starting with my exams. I will give all the efforts and hard work done through-out the year in my examination sheet and score well in my Examinations.
